

ANALYSIS OF REGENERATION POLICIES IN RURAL TRANSYLVANIA

PhD. Student MULER ONOFREI<sup>1</sup>, Prof. Ph. D. ION ANGHEL<sup>2</sup>

Abstract

The conservation of the Saxons villages of Transylvania should be followed by long term economic policies allowing for the participation of local population in the benefits brought by the conservation efforts. As until now the rural regeneration policies were confined to conservation alone, we argue that a wider approach with far reaching economic consequences would be more appropriate. In order to insure the continuation and sustainability of the Saxon villages there is a need for a mix of mix of socio-economic policies and specific property market mechanisms that would take the current efforts to the next level.

---

<sup>1</sup> Academy of Economic Studies, Bucharest, muler\_onofrei@yahoo.com

<sup>2</sup> Academy of Economic Studies, Bucharest