

REPRESENTATIVE SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT INDICATORS FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Associate Professor PhD. ROMULUS ANDREICA¹

Abstract

Sustainable development is one of the most important concerns at global level, because of the environment status and its importance for the present and future generations, aiming for an efficient usage of resources and population awareness. Because of its main goal, the indicators that define it perform different purposes, such as supporting and simplifying decisions, transferring information and revealing a defined image of the global situation.

¹ Commercial Academy, Satu Mare, academiacomerciala@yahoo.com